

January 20, 2014

http://www.luxuryrealestate.com/news/press_releases/4990-carol-staab-of-douglas-elliman-sells-fifth-avenue-penthouse-for-full-asking-price-of-1495-million

Carol Staab of Douglas Elliman Sells Fifth Avenue Penthouse for Full Asking Price of $14.95 Million

NEW YORK, NY - Carol Staab of Douglas Elliman recently represented the seller in the sale of New York Developer Harvey Auerbach's Fifth Avenue penthouse. The apartment sold to an international buyer from Asia who paid the full asking price of $14,950,000 in cash. The trophy penthouse offers 3,572 square feet, three bedrooms, four and a half baths, and 360 degrees of breathing taking views that include Central Park and the reservoir whose perimeter is 1.5 miles.

For more information on this sale or Carol, please visit www.carolstaab.com.

About Carol Staab of Douglas Elliman

Carol Staab, a senior vice president, brings over 20 years of residential real estate experience to Prudential Douglas Elliman one of the oldest premier luxury residential real estate firms and a global leader in the industry. Carol is a NYRS (New York Residential Specialist) who is board certified by the Real Estate Board of New York. It is the highest professional designation awarded to the top tier of New York City brokers who have successfully completed an advanced graduate program through the Real Estate Board of New York.