$4.25 million

With its "glass-enclosed" living room -- literally, the walls and ceiling are entirely glass -- this penthouse offers "stunning" Upper West Side and park views from its Central Park West location (between 82nd and 83rd streets). In addition to the "abundance of light" in the prewar co-op, there's also an abundance of space -- 1,800 square feet with three bedrooms, three bathrooms and a "spacious" kitchen. If you care to step outside, there's even more room, with two "fully landscaped and irrigated" terraces totaling 1,300 square feet.
