SHARE ON EMAILSHARE ON TWITTERTWITTERSHARE ON FACEBOOKFACEBOOK Manhattan's housing market is on fire. Dmitry Rybolovlev's $88 million penthouse purchase for his daughter may have broken records, but it was not alone: The first quarter of 2012 racked an additional 16 sales above $10 million. Compared to this time last year, that's a 42% transaction increase, according to Brown Harris Stevens, a New York-based luxury real estate affiliate of Christie's International Real Estate.

"Some of the international buyers ... are looking at the conversion rate as well as the solid investment that's very consistent in real estate here in New York," says Dan Tubb, sales director of One57.

Here are the priciest penthouses available on the market:

4. The Parc Cinq Penthouse [785 Fifth, PH 17-18]
