Upper East Side $3.675 million

A newly completed “triple-mint renovation” has transformed this condo in a full-service building on East 80th Street into a “sweeping living space” that is “more like a grand house than an apartment.” The four bedrooms and four bathrooms in the 2,600-square-foot home are complemented by a “large, open” dining room and a “dramatic” sunken living room. The “mocha hickory floors” are brand-new, as are the kitchen’s granite counters and stainless-steel appliances. The fourth bedroom, meanwhile, has been outfitted with a wall of customized built-in cabinets, shelves and a desk — the ideal home office. Agents: Jessica Cohen and Brian Hauserman, Douglas Elliman, 212-769-6553 and 917-213-7203
